VOLUME CIX.--NO. 17. ALEXANDRIA, VA., MONDAY EVENING, JANUARY 20, 1908 PRICE 2 CENTS

Cures Woman's Weaknesses.

We refer to that boon to weak, nervous, suffering women known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dr. John Fyfe one of the Editorial Staff of THE ECLECTIC MEDICAL REVIEW says of Unicorn root (Helonias Dioica) which is one of the chief ingredients of the "Favorite Prescription":

"A remedy which invariably acts as a uterine invigorator * * * makes for normal activity of the entire reproductive system." He continues "in Helonias we have a medicament which more fully answers the above purposes than any other drug with which I am acquainted. In the treatment of diseases peculiar to women it is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some indication for this remedial agent." Dr. Fyfe further says: "The following are among the leading indications for Helonias (Unicorn root). Pain or aching in the back, with leucorrhœa; atonic (weak) conditions of the reproductive organs of women, mental depression and irritability, associated with chronic diseases of the reproductive organs of women; constant sensation of heat in the region of the kidneys; menorrhagia (flooding), due to a weakened condition of the reproductive system; amenorrhœa, suppressed or absent monthly periods, arising from or accompanying an abnormal condition of the digestive organs and Anæmic (thin blood) habit; dragging sensations in the extreme lower part of the abdomen."

If more or less of the above symptoms are present, no invalid woman can do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, one of the leading ingredients of which is Unicorn root, or Helonias, and the medical properties of which it most faithfully represents.

Of Golden Seal root, another prominent ingredient of "Favorite Prescription," Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says:

"It is an important remedy in disorders of the womb. In all uterine conditions * * * and general enfeeblement it is useful."

Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, says of Golden Seal root:

"In relation to its general effects on the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic useful in all debilitated states."

Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, says of Golden Seal:

"Valuable in uterine hemorrhage, menorrhagia (flooding) and congestive dysmenorrhœa (painful menstruation)."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription faithfully represents all the above named ingredients and cures the diseases for which they are recommended.

CATHOLIC MARRIAGE LAW.

The new laws of the Catholic Church concerning betrothal and marriage which are to be promulgated Easter Sunday in every Catholic diocese in the world, go into effect at noon on that day.

Under these laws any marriage contracted between Catholics will be absolutely void in the eyes of the church unless it be celebrated in the presence of a duly qualified priest and two witnesses. At present the marriage of a Catholic couple by a non-Catholic clergyman or by a civil magistrate is valid, although it is considered illicit, and the persons contracting it render themselves liable to excommunication.

Protestants married by a minister will be regarded as lawfully married under the new law.

Marriages between Catholics in Protestant churches or registry offices will be for Catholics not only sinful, but invalid, and the persons who contract them will have only gone through an empty ceremony and will be no more husband and wife than they were before. This law binds all Catholics, even though they are apostate or excommunicated.

But it does not affect those who are not and never have been Catholics. Consequently, Protestants and non-Catholics are outside of the scope of the law, in the eyes of the church, and such marriages are recognized by the Catholic Church, all else permitting it, as real and true marriages.

The principles contained in the new laws have long been recognized in the church, it is explained, and their recent promulgation is said to be due to the increase of marriages before civil magistrate in this country and abroad.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Benefits a City Councilman at Kingston, Jamaica.

Mr. W. O'Reilly Fogarty, who is a member of the City Council at Kingston, Jamaica, West Indies, writes as follows: One bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy had good effect on a cough that was giving me trouble and I think I should have been more quickly relieved if I had continued the remedy. That it was beneficial and quick in relieving me there is no doubt and it is my intention to obtain another bottle." For sale by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.

REPORT FILED.

Receivers Martin and Geddes for the Jamestown Exposition have filed their first report in the United States Court at Norfolk. The receivers declare that they are unable to arrange for insurance on any of the exposition buildings or other property, and that the receipts since their appointment have failed to meet the expenses.

In dealing with the matter of their inability to arrange for insurance on any of the buildings on the grounds or other property of the company, the receivers stated that they have been compelled to maintain guards and a fire department to patrol the grounds and watch the buildings.

The receivers claim that the sum of $50,000 has been paid by them on the order of J. M. Barr.

"Mr. Barr's report," the receivers declare, "does not contain any statement of the disbursement of this amount, and we are advised that he still has in hand about $9,000 of this sum in cash. If our information is correct, this is undoubtedly an asset of the company, and we have written Mr. Barr to this effect. He sets forth in his said report that he holds, $3,500 and $55, in first mortgage bonds of the company."

THE STATE BUILDINGS,

U. S. District Judge Waddill in Norfolk, Saturday, allowed a decree by which the 24 States of the union and others having buildings upon sites at the Jamestown Exposition, held subject to general lien claims against the property of the Exposition, will have 90 days from the date upon which the court determines the validity of the liens in which to take up their optional contracts, and six months thereafter in which to remove their buildings, if they so desire. Some few recorded their optional contracts before liens were filed and are declared to be entirely safe.

It was also proposed for the benefit of the states, to submit an early consent decree allowing all to take up immediately their optional site contracts with a clear court title, the funds to be paid into court and afterwards litigated.

SKATING FATALITIES.

Three boys were drowned and another had a narrow escape from death while trying to cross Kitsohgessner's pond near Newark, N. J., on the ice Saturday. The ice gave way where the water in the pond is deepest. Three went under the ice and were drowned.

Four skating fatalities were reported in New England Saturday.

Four children were drowned Saturday while skating on a reservoir at Coral, near Indiana, Pa. The children cut their way through the snow to a part of the reservoir near one of the feeders. Suddenly, about fifteen square feet of ice broke, and the little ones sank into the freezing water.

SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

MONDAY EVENING, JAN. 20, 1908.

GENERAL ROBERT E. LEE, one of the noblest of the galaxy of great men which Virginia has given to the world was born 101 years ago yesterday, and today has been observed as a legal holiday in Virginia as well as in other southern States. Tonight R. E. Lee Camp of Confederate Veterans will hold its annual banquet at which eulogies will be delivered on the hero, statesman and Christian gentleman, honored not only in the South, but in every section of the country as well as in the civilized world. But few men have appeared in the world in which were blended remarkable military genius, statesmanship, Christianity and the gentle nature of woman. Some, indeed, have exemplified one or the other endowment, but those in which all have radiated are few and far between. General Lee was born great, and long before his genius attracted the attention of the world those with whom he mingled were conscious of the fact that should opportunity ever come for him to appear in the world's amphitheatre his fame was assured. Unlike the selfish and ambitious, he sought nothing but waited for things to come to him, but when once a duty was placed upon him he used all the energy he could command to perform it faithfully. It is unnecessary to recall his course during the civil war. His life and service to his native State has been read and reread, but the fact may be recalled that at the close of the war between the States, when he had become one of the most noted men the world had produced, instead of posing on dress parade he virtually shrunk from public gaze and renewed civil life in an unostentatious way. The galaxy of the truly great has never been overcrowded and though many have been thrust into it by hero worshippers, in time their glory has faded. Others, however, become more brilliant as time goes on. It is so with Lee. He is now the alpha of a brilliant constellation.

IT IS reported that the Brazilian police have discovered an anarchistic plot at Rio Janeiro having as its object the destruction of part of an American fleet now lying in the harbor. An individual named Jean Fedher, who resided in Petropolis, is said to be the chief conspirator, although it is suggested that foreign anarchists are involved in the plot. The police of San Paulo have sent word that they are on the track of the malefactors who, they declare, will not be able to come to Rio Janeiro. Rear Admiral John E. Pillsbury, chief of the Bureau of Navigation of the Navy Department, was greatly surprised when he heard the story. He said that it would be a strange thing if the anarchists should go so far as Brazil bent on the destruction of the Pacific-bound fleet when they probably could carry out their plot with much greater ease in this country. Thousands of visitors annually visit the American battleships at Hampton Roads, New York and other places, and it would not be a very difficult matter for anyone having as an object the blowing up of a ship to carry out his intention. Admiral Rojentsvensky imagined he saw Japanese destroyers in the English channel while he was on his ill-fated voyage, and fired on peaceable English fishermen. The excitement in the American fleet may be equally as groundless.

THAT no human bones of prehistoric origin have yet been found in America is the conclusion of a pamphlet soon to be issued by Dr. Ales Hrdlica, of the United States National Museum. Dr. Hrdlica was formerly of the staff of the American Museum of Natural History, and since going to Washington has devoted much time to the study of the bones of ancient and modern man. "But one conclusion is justified," he says, "which is that thus far on this continent no human bones of undisputed geological antiquity are known. This must not be regarded as equivalent to a declaration that there was no early man in this country; it means only that if early man did exist in North America, convincing proof of the fact, from the standpoint of physical anthropology, still remains to be produced." The doctor's declaration in the forthcoming pamphlet places him in direct opposition to leading American anthropologists.

GRAVE charges have been made in the United States Supreme Court against Judge Peter S. Grosscup, of the Seventh United States Circuit Court at Chicago, by petitioners representing registered stockholders of the West Chicago Street Railway Company. The complainants allege that he violated his oath of office in assuming jurisdiction over the Consolidated Street Railway cases, in which he had a personal interest. If the court should uphold these charges, it is said, there would be no course open other than for the United States Senate to try him under impeachment proceedings. The judge it is said, however, courts the strictest investigation.

A BILL is now before the legislature which removes the license tax from coasting vessels trading at Virginia ports. The bill is in line with the scheme of the Chambers of Commerce of several cities for the last thirty years, and it is also commended by the business bodies of many sections, so that it would seem that the State is at last to rid herself of this tax and practically invite "free trade" in her waters. On all sides the general assembly is being urged to pass the bill and to open up all the ports to commercial relations. The sentiment is that the bill will pass as it came from the patrons, whatever may be the attitude of the friends of the pilots.

ACCORDING to figures compiled by the North German Lloyd line $110,000,000 was taken out of the United States last year by aliens returning to their former homes in Europe. This computation is based on figures furnished by steamship agents, money-changers and others in a position to be informed, and is made on the assumption that the average amount carried by the returning foreigner is $200 and that 550,045 immigrants returned to their native land. It is estimated that this $200 will maintain him in absolute idleness for a year or more, and when the money is gone he will return.

GOV. VARDAMAN, of Mississippi, announces that he will be a candidate for another term and that he will become the editor of a newspaper to advance his interest. The Governor is on the wrong track. He should know that the average editor makes more enemies in a month than he can make friends in a year, and this is because he tells, or is supposed to tell, people the truth, and this is just what many do not want to hear.

LED out of a San Francisco saloon by his ear, Jim Jeffries humbly left a stag party of sporting men a few nights since, quietly followed his better half out of the door, meekly climbing into an auto and was driven to their hotel. How the mighty have fallen!

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, D. C., January 20.

Discussion of a variety of subjects of importance to the welfare of the country will be had this week at the 88th annual session of the National Board of Trade. During the three days of the convention, beginning tomorrow, a score or more of prominent public men will deliver addresses, including President Roosevelt. Among those who will respond to toasts at the banquet Wednesday evening are the Vice President, Speaker Cannon, Attorney-General Bonaparte, Postmaster General Meyer, Secretary Straus, the Italian Ambassador, and Senator Du-Pont of Delaware. The general programme includes discussion of propositions offered by members from all sections of the country, and will cover a wide range.

Evidently the Chinese are acquiring accidental civilization at a fast and furious rate. Consul Gracey, of Taingtau, reports the recent installation, by a Shanghai druggist, of an American soda-water fountain. New York is now sending the heathen Chinese ready-made clothing, and he likes perfumery. Johnny Bull is ahead of Uncle Sam on one commodity that shows the advance of civilization. He exports a beautiful cordial, which is taken for the stomach's sake. With the soda-water habit, the ready-to-wear clothing habit, and the patent-medicine feeling China is getting civilized.

Thomas Hartigan, one of Washington's best known detectives, died this morning after an illness of less than twenty-four hours.

Commissioner Henry L. West was removed to Providence Hospital last night and underwent an operation for internal trouble this morning.

That the House committee on appropriations has implicit faith in the Isthmian Canal Commission is evinced by the determination of the committee today to give the commission $11,000,000 it asks to keep the canal digging going until the end of the present fiscal year.

The House committee on ppropriation today decided to give the Navy Department an emergency fund of $1,000,000 to pay the coal bill of Admiral Evans' fleet now on its journey to the Pacific.

Secretary Cortelyou has found it impossible to prepare the information regarding Treasury finances that was called for in the resolution adopted by the Senate some time ago and informed Senator Aldrich today that because of the mass of figures and data required to compile it he would probably not be ready to report to the Senate before the end of the week. This will probably result in considerable delay in the consideration of the Aldrich bill, The finance committee held a meeting today, but made no progress. As several of the members of the committee desire to consult the data called for from the Treasury Department before final action is taken on the Aldrich bill, hope of reporting that measure to the Senate tomorrow has been abandoned and it will be over for another week.

Sixtieth Congress.

Washington, Jan. 20.

SENATE.

Senator McCreary introduced a bill making all former presidents ex-officio members for life of Pan-American, Hague and other international conferences, at an annual salary of $10,000. Among other duties will be that of substituting judicial decisions for force in the settlement of international disputes.

The Senate today fired another question at the Secretary of the Treasury by adopting a resolution asking for information relative to the appointment of bank examiners and their methods of work. It was the Tillman inquiry of some days ago and objection to it was withdrawn by Chairman Aldrich of the finance committee, when Mr. Tillman eliminated his request for information as to the previous occupation of the examiners.

A spirited debate followed the charge by Mr. Tillman that the Secretary of the Treasury was guilty of disobedience in not furnishing information already called for. For the first time since the avalanche of criticism has been hurled at the Treasury Department, Secretary Cortelyou was defended.

Mr. Clay urged the Senate to adopt a resolution calling upon the Postmaster General for records relative to fines imposed upon railroads for delays in the prompt transportation of mails. Upon objection it went over.

HOUSE

"Tis a day of discontent," said Speaker Cannon when a member asked him what the business of the House was for today's session.

"I mean a day of unanimous consents," quickly corrected the Speaker and then the inquirer and others who heard the explanation laughed heartily.

This is the first day of the present congress which under the rule being the third Monday of the month to be devoted to unanimous consents. This first bill, offered by Representative Moore (Rep. Pa.) provided for an appropriation of $250,000 for a temporary, or emergency immigration station at Philadelphia. The bill was defeated owing to the objection of Mr. Mann (Rep. Ill.)

New York Stock Market.

New York, Jan. 20.—After a weak opening and some material declines a strong tone developed and prices made fair advances before the end of the first hour. American Smelting was an exception to this strength. The pressure in American Smelting exerted for a time a depressing influence on many other stocks. The decision of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court confirming the unconstitutionality of the two cent fare law caused some heavy buying of Pennsylvania on which the price advanced from 115⅞ to 117 and also induced buying of Reading, but had little influence on the rest of the list.

FIRE IN RICHMOND.

In a spectacular fire Saturday night in Richmond the Press building and its contents were totally destroyed with a loss estimated at $180,000. Adjoining property, valued at millions of dollars, during the progress of the fire was threatened with destruction.

Immediately in the rear of the building was the magazine of the Richmond Light Infantry Blues, and it was only by the desperate efforts of the firemen that the explosion of hundreds of pounds of powder was averted.

A lodging house adjoined the burning building, and when the fire started the fifty lodgers, many of them women, were panic stricken. Frantic women screamed for help; some went into hysterics, and others fainted and fell helpless in the hallways, and were carried unconscious into the streets.

The Planters' National Bank adjoined the burning building on the south, and was with great difficulty saved from destruction.

The owner of the building is L. H. Jenkins. The estimated value of the building is $25,000, while the loss to the stock, owned by C. A. Zincke and Gibson Worsham, is estimated at $150,000. The damage to adjoining property will ade $5,000 to the total losses. The losses are covered by insurance.

The Richmond Press publishes the Southern Churchman, the Christian Advocate, the Central Presbyterian, and the Civic Sentinel.

THE GAZETTE.

In last week's issue we failed to note that with the beginning of the New Year our esteemed and valuable contemporary, the Alexandria Gazette, entered upon its 109th volume. The Gazette is really some years older than this, but because of broken files and records the later generations of management have dated its birth from the year 1800. In respect to its editorial management, there is, perhaps, not a paper in the Southland that can show a more "even tenor of its way." There is not now, nor never has been, any milk-and-water in its make up. It is democratic after the fashion of the old Jeffersonian school, and calls a trust a trust, a philanthropist a philanthropist, a spade a spade. In the matter of news it manages to gather all within the territory in which it circulates, in addition to presenting in a terse, business man's style the general happenings of interest through the country. For this reason it is a journal highly prized as an exchange by every editor in Virginia. Long may it live and prosper.—[Loudoun Enterprise.

The Southern Planter for January has been received from its Richmond publishers. It is a very handsome number and contains much reading of interest to farmers generally.

"I had run down in weight to 135 pounds, and coughing was constant, both by day and by night. Finally I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and continued this for about six months, when my cough and lung trouble were entirely gone and I was restored my normal weight, 170 pounds." Thousands of persons are healed every year. Guaranteed at all drug stores. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Today's Telegraphic News.

Evelyn Thaw on the Stand.

New York, Jan. 20.—Mrs. Evelyn Thaw was the first witness called today. She will complete her testimony before any other witnesses are called.

There was a lengthy conference of Thaw's attorneys before the trial began at which it was decided that Evelyn Thaw would not be withdrawn to permit her mother-in-law and Mrs. Morehouse Lawrence to testify first. So the younger Mrs. Thaw again resumed the stand.

Jerome at once renewed his motion that the public be excluded from the court room during the remaining time that Mrs. Evelyn Thaw is on the stand. He declared that the action of the court in excluding all women except press representatives was in part of a precedent. As to the propriety of excluding the public at a second trial when the first was in public, he cited the case of William Hall, tried in Monroe county in 1900 where this was done. He claimed that the court has power to act and that the application of the code of criminal procedure would not compel the admittance of the public. Jerome's argument was extended.

Justice Dowling then ruled that as Jerome had withdrawn his motion the reporters and public should be admitted.

Littleton at once plunged into the examination of Evelyn, questioning her relative to the famous interview in the Paris hotel in 1903, in which the girl confessed to Thaw that she could not marry him because of her alleged wrong at the hands of Stanford White.

Evelyn reiterated her alleged experience with Stanford White substantially as she told it at the first trial. Some of the details, however, were eliminated. She described her visit to the Twenty-fourth street house where White had invited her to supper, and said:

"He showed me a room lined entirely with mirrors, another beautifully upholstered and fitted; also a secret stairway which led from the upper to the lower floor. Then he showed me a finely furnished bedroom, and when I sat down he poured out a glass of wine and set it before me. When I did not drink it he asked what was the matter, and I took a little of it. I knew no more for some time. When I finally came to myself my clothing had been taken from me. I screamed and Stanford White came over to me and told me not to worry. I hurriedly dressed and went back to my hotel."

"What next did you tell Mr. Thaw?"

"I told him Stanford White came to my room and knelt down and told me I must not worry; that everything would be all right. That I must not tell mamma, that every one does these things, that it was a part of life. I asked if certain people I knew did these things, and he laughed for a long time and told me 'why, of course.' "He declared that if I did not believe him to ask any of them and they would tell me he was telling the truth."

During her recital the voice of the witness broke many times and on two occasions tears rolled down her cheeks. Through it all Thaw sat with his handkerchief to his eyes, his frame apparently occasionally convulsed with sobs.

"What else did you tell Mr. Thaw?"

"He asked me if I ever visited White again and I told him I had."

"Did he ask you where?"

"He did and I told him White took me to the 22nd street house. It was furnished a great deal like the 24th street house. I told him also about the lighting arrangement."

"What were these?"

"In the bed room of the 24th street house there were a number of electric buttons. One would turn the lights on another would turn them off; still others would light the single globes in the various parts of the room."

"What was Mr. Thaw's manner as you told him of your experiences at the hands of White?"

"He would pace up and down the room, pull at his hair, wring his hands, bite his finger nails and sob aloud."

Evelyn said she remained in New York until about February, 1904 and confessed to living at the Grand Hotel with Thaw.

The one new sensation of the day was Evelyn's assertion that she refused a suicide pact with Thaw.

"We are tired of life" she declared he said to her "and we should end it all White ruined your life and mine. Let us take laudanum."

"Oh, no!" replied this girl of 19. "Let us go to the theatre."

And they went to the play house.

Later, at Monte Carlo, Thaw did actually take poison himself, according to Evelyn, but an overdose acted as an emetic and his life was saved.

The Court adjourned until 2:30. The afternoon session will continue until 5:30.

Mrs. Thaw Interviewed.

New York, Jan. 20—Charles Summerville, in the New York Evening Journal prints an interview with Evelyn Thaw in which the latter declares she expects to convince the jury that is now trying her husband that he was not to blame for the killing of Stanford White. But she is by no means as confident as before and admits there is a possibility that the jury may not see things as she does.

Summerville states he found her at her Park View home.

"I am not afraid of Jerome," she is quoted as saying. "I only ask him to be fair. I only want him to let the jury and the public know fully the woman I am. He can frame questions to which I am only allowed to reply in a limited way and the whole thing is done in such a manner that he creates misunderstandings about my character—about the sort of girl I am.

"He comes from the side of wealth and influence that looks upon all girls and women of the stage as social vampires. They are taught that such women are invariably the pitfalls of youth and ambition. In a vague way I think Jerome must think I was born evil that if my hair was brushed aside horns would be found growing out of my head.

"I loathe all the things in life that he would paint me as liking. I hated the coarse talk of the dressing room. Only in such dressings rooms Jerome must know there are two sorts of girls. There are those who are simply animals and those who clean in mind and body by their ambitions."

Mrs. Thaw is then quoted as saying she went on the stage because the possibilities were greater than posing and she desired to become a famous actress.

"I hope they exonorate Harry and let him go free," she continued.

"It was done purely in madness. At other times he had thought only of exposure, not death, as fitting punishment for Stanford White. At the last trial I confidently expected acquittal and had my Harry's evening clothes laid out so that he could go to dinner with me so soon as he was set free. But I am now afraid to hope too confidently.

The Fleet.

Rio Janeiro, Jan. 20.—Officers of the American fleet are keeping commendably straight faces over the announcement by the Brazilian police that only the latter's vigilance is preventing an anarchistic plot from being carried out against the American fleet.

It is the polite thing, of course, to express appreciation of the authorities' care for their welfare and the Americans are expressing it in all their conversations with representatives of Brazilian officialdom. They are also accepting implicitly the police chief's assurance that they "can rest easy" as all the conspirators have been driven into the interior.

Nobody seems to know much concerning the identity of Jean Fedher, of Petropolis, the man to whom the Brazilians refer as the organizer of the plot and there is a good deal of curiosity concerning the chances for his capture at Sao Paulo, where it is said here it is believed he has taken refuge.

Of their information concerning the foreign anarchists who are supposed to have been working under Fedher's orders the police will give out no details whatever. All they will admit is that they are searching Rio Janeiro, Petropolis, Sao Paulo and Minas Gerses with fine tooth combs for them.

Brazil is unquestionably very seriously impressed with its responsibilities in the matter and evidently has a doubt that a real and exceedingly dangerous conspiracy exists.

The American officers, sailors and marines aren't allowing their danger to interfere with their comfort. The officers are kept busy with the constant round of entertainments and receptions in their honor and as many of the men are allowed ashore as the fleet's necessities will permit.

Admiral Beresford to Retire.

London, Jan. 20 —Conclusive, though unofficial, confirmation of the report that Admiral Sir Arthur Moore has been ordered home from the China station and that he will succeed Admiral Lord Charles Beresford in commander of the channel fleet and that Lord Charles will retire, was permitted to leak from the Admiralty today.

The official explanation will be that long service and failing health compel Lord Charles's retirement. It is an open secret, however, that First Lord of the Admiralty, Sir John Fisher, has shown so plainly his preference for Sir Percy Scott, in the latter's controversy with Admiral Beresford, that the channel fleet commander thinks he has no option but to yield his post.

The dispute will be remembered as an outgrowth of the Kaiser's recent visit to England when, in response to Admiral Beresford's summons to him to bring his squadron to prepare for the reception Admiral Scott signalled:

"Paint work appears to be more in demand than gunnery, so you had better come in in time to look pretty by November 8."

For this message he was publicly reprimanded by Admiral Beresford and a bitter feud has raged between the two men's followers ever since.

Message of Peace from the Pope.

Rome, Jan. 20.—Pointing out that it is to such "young and intelligent nations" as America and Japan that the world must look for progress in civilization, Pope Pius sent a message of peace to the new world today through Archbishop Riodan of San Francisco.

"I recommend you to work for pacification of the warlike spirits in your diocese," said the pontiff in his parting audience to the visiting American prelate, "and I urge upon you to do your utmost to persuade all American prelates to do likewise, that your people may disregard the wicked exaggerations of the jingo press. Countries like America and Japan are morally bound to work together to this end. The clergy should enforce fraternal peace upon all Catholics, for if peace ceases to exist our mission may be considered to have failed". The Pope concluded by an expression of his hope that the charges of modernism preferred against the Rev. Father Hanna, of Rochester, N. Y. may prove unfounded, removing all objections to his appointment as Archbishop Riodan's coadjutor at San Francisco.

The Pope seemed fully to have recovered from his attack of the gout, and assured his visitor that he was again in excellent health.

Japanese on the Trail.

San Francisco, Jan 20.—That Japanese spies have been dogging the movements of Lieutenant James H. Walker all the way from Japan to America and even after he landed here is the assertion of naval and police officials. During his brief visit here before his departure for the east Lieutenant Walker was closely watched every time he put foot outside of doors. He has just completed a tour of observation in Japan, and is said to have secured valuable information, which he will report on his arrival at Washington. The little brown men took up the scent the moment the officer left his hotel on arrival here and never flagged in their watchfulness until the naval officer boarded the train on his way to Washington.

The Revolution in Haiti.

Port Au Prince, Haiti, Jan. 20.—General Firmin in whose behalf the pending insurrection against President Alexis was organized, is on his way to Haiti from St. Thomas, according to advices received here today, and his landing is hourly expected. It is supposed he will come ashore somewhere on the coast near the scene of the revolutionary operation. Twenty-six followers accompany him. There have been several skirmishes between President Alexis' forces and the revolutionists and a general engagement is likely at any time.

Port Au Prince, Haiti, Jan. 20.—Government troops have captured St. Mare from the revolutionists and have Gonaives surrounded.

Temperance Reform Denounced.

London, Jan. 20.—Denouncing the so called "temperance reform" movement as a mischievous attack on the liberty of the masses, the National Freedom Defense League issued its manifesto today urging Englishmen to rally, regardless of party, in defense of their rights against "the government's effort to redeem some of its hastily-made pledges to the "temperance party."

Family Murdered.

Lewistown, Mont. Jan 20—News was received here today of the brutal murder of a family of five, a widow and four of her daughters at the old bottoms ranch ten miles from Moeback. GEN. LEE'S BIRTHDAY.

Yesterday was the 101st anniversary of the birth of General Robert E. Lee, but today has been observed in honor of the event, it being a legal holiday in Virginia. The banks and city offices have been closed.

Tonight the members of Lee Camp, Confederate Veterans, in accordance with their annual custom, will hold a banquet at Lee Camp Hall, which will be attended by ex-Confederates and others. The toasts to be responded to are as follows: "Gen. Lee," Gov. Claude A. Swanson; "The Confederate Soldier," Senator W. J. Bryan, of Florida; "The Sons of Confederate Veterans," Representative H. D. Flood, of Virginia. Commander William A. Smoot will preside. Adjt. Charles S. Taylor will read Gen. Lee's farewell address.

Every preparation has been made for the event and an enjoyable time is anticipated by all who propose to attend.

Governor Swanson arrived here this evening from Richmond and was met at the depot by Mr. G. W. Ramsay of Lee Camp. While in this city the Governor will be the guest of Congressman C. C. Carlin.

Hildebrand, pastor of Harmony Methodist Episcopal Church South, of this town. Immediately following the ceremony the happy couple will leave for Ohio and Illinois, where they will spend two weeks with relatives and friends. She is also very popular in Hamilton, where she has frequently been the guest of the Misses Rogers.—Hamilton Enterprise.

DEATH OF MAJOR COOPER.

Major Samuel Cooper died at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Nicholas Dawson, in Fairfax county, near this city, this morning. The deceased was born at "Clermont," Fairfax county, June 4, 1837. He was in early life an officer in the Second United States artillery and during the civil war was a major of artillery attached to General Ewell's corps in the Confederate army. The deceased was the only son of General Samuel Cooper, and Mrs. Dawson is the only survivor of his immediate family. Major Cooper was an uncle of Mr. Cooper Dawson, bookkeeper at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store. The funeral will take place from Mrs. Dawson's residence on Wednesday next at 12 o'clock.

FINED FIFTY DOLLARS.

There was but one case before the Police Court this morning, that of John Johnson, colored, of Washington, who had been arrested yesterday by Officer Gill for being drunk on the streets and carrying a pistol. The conduct of the negro attracted the officer's attention, and when he approached him he took from his pocket a loaded pistol of .38 calibre. Johnson, upon being placed in the docket this morning, said he did not know how the pistol got in his pocket. Justice Caton fined him $50, and in default of payment he will spend 90 days on the chain gang.

SERVIANS ARRESTED.

Chief Goods and Lieutenant Smith this morning arrested several Servians, male and female, who have recently been quartered in the Braddock House. The arrest was made on a dispatch from Council Bluff, Iowa, where the prisoners are charged with larceny and kidnapping. The party has been engaged in fortune-telling while in this city. Some of them received dispatches today from friends in the west directing them where to go when prepared to leave Alexandria, but the officers took them in charge before they started to leave.

"GUIDES" ARRESTED.

The police today arrested several boys for trespassing upon electric cars. A number of youths especially on Saturdays, when the schools are closed, swarm around electric trains and offer their services as guides to strangers. They board moving trains and not only annoy people but by their recklessness run the risk of being crippled or killed. It is hoped the authorities will stop such procedures before accidents occur.

Delightful weather this—but better bargains at 319 Cameron street.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Eighty-nine lodgers were accommodated at the station house last week.

The weather yesterday was fair and mild and similar conditions have prevailed today.

The steam yacht Samuel W. Sutton has been fitted up with a handsome cabin, and presents a most pleasing appearance.

While rolling a pair of car wheels on the track near Portner's Brewery yesterday, a white boy named Johnson was quite badly hurt.

Silver Brook farm, 135 acres, near Lorton, Fairfax county, recently the home of Michael Rosehammer, was sold recently to Mr. Outhoult, of Batavia, N. Y.

Ten uniforms and some slippers which had been stolen from the Alexandria Athletic Club were found under a step at Schuler's Hall where they had been secreted.

Mrs. L. D. M. Sweat, regent from the State of Maine for the Mount Vernon Association, died in her apartment at the Connecticut, in Washington, Thursday night.

The employees of the Southern Railway shops in this city were recently reduced to 8 hours a day and on Saturday were still further reduced to five days each week.

Mr. Harry Kramer, formerly of this city, is traveling through the South giving bicycle performances and attracts much attention by his wonderful tricks on his wheel.

On Friday night the candidates who were initiated by the degree team of Potomac Lodge, I. O. O. F., a few weeks ago at Falls Church, will visit this city and receive the first degree.

On account of the resignation of Mr. M. M. Richey, the jurisdiction of Mr. E. H. Coapman, Menager, is extended over the middle and western districts of the Southern Railway with office at Washington.

Benjamin Hamilton, a well-known colored barber, has reported to the authorities that he was robbed on Saturday night. His money was hid in his shoe, and was taken, he says, by an ebony-hued individual.

All the white laborers employed on the Bluemont division of the Southern Railway have quit work on account of a reduction in their pay. The men have been receiving $1.15 a day, but they were recently reduced to $1.

Joe Turner, the Washington wrestler, had but little difficulty in disposing of Young Parker, of Baltimore, Saturday night before the Alexandria Athletic Club, gaining two straight falls. The conditions called for best two out of three. During the intermission Charley Corbett and Young Britt, two seventy-five-pound youngsters, treated the spectators to a piece of boxing. Corbett was declared the winner at the end of the sixth round.

Former Representative Allan McDermott, jr., of New Jersey, was re-elected president of the Washington Railway and Electric Company on Saturday. While the local ticket of directors was elected, as has been confidently predicted for some time past, the presidency of the road did not go to William Loeb, jr., secretary to President Roosevelt, and whose name has been mentioned as the likely choice for the position. Mr. Loeb may, however, later on assume direction of the road, as Mr. McDermott, who has been president of the company for the past five years, was only temporarily re-elected Saturday.

The through trains on Southern Railway will not stop at the Union passenger station at this place hereafter except when signalled; neither will they stop at Manassas and Galveston except upon being flagged.

Alexandria Trades Council will hold a business meeting tonight. All the recently elected delegates are requested to be present.

A list of the qualified voters of the city was today posted in each ward by the City Sergeant.

The Marine Band has been ordered to Alexandria February 22 to take part in the parade.

The public schools were given a holiday today.

All want the best. The Hess, Walk Over, Red Cross, and Queen Quality Shoes are to be had at J. A. Marshall & Bro's., 422 King street. nov21 tf

MONDAY EVENING, JAN. 20, 1908.

He Wanted to Burn Them.

Husband (looking up from his paper)—What asses men can make of themselves!

Wife—What is the matter now, dear?

H.—I am looking at the love letters in this breach of promise case.

W.—Are they interesting?

H.—Interesting? They are absolutely sickening. Hear this: "My dear ducky," "My lovely dovey." Ha, ha, ha!

W. (demurely)—It does sound rather foolish, doesn't it?

H. (with a burst of laughter)—Foolish? Idiotic, you mean. It's the worst nonsense imaginable. To think that any man in his senses could write such stuff as this: "I send you a million kisses, my goosie poosie, sweety peety!" Ha, ha, ha!

W.—Perhaps he loved her when he wrote those letters.

H.—Suppose he did! Is that any excuse for writing such bosh?

W.—Yes, it should be. Here are some letters I found today when looking over my old relics—relics of courtship. They are very foolish, but very precious to me, I assure you. They are your letters. One of them begins, "My ownest own preciousest little ducky darling, my"—

H. (hastily)—That will do. Put them in the fire.—London Scraps.

Gunpowder.

The explosion of gunpowder is divided into three distinct stages, called the ignition, inflammation and combustion. The ignition is the setting on fire of the first grain, while the inflammation is the spreading of the flame over the surface of the powder from the point of ignition. Combustion is the burning up of each grain. The value of gunpowder is due to the fact that when subjected to sufficient heat it becomes a gas which expands with frightful rapidity. The so called explosion that takes place when a match is touched to gunpowder is merely a chemical change, during which there is a sudden evolution of gases from the original solid. It has been calculated that ordinary gunpowder on exploding expands about 9,000 times or fills a space this much larger as a gas than when in a solid form. When this chemical change takes place in a closed vessel the expansion may be made to do a work like that of forcing a projectile along the bore of the great gun or test tube in the line of least resistance.

Why Snow Is White.

The reason snow is white is that all the elementary colors are blended together in the radiance that is thrown off from the surface of the crystals, which may be examined in such a way as to detect these colors before they are mingled together to give the eye the impression of whiteness. The whiteness of the snow is also in some degree referable to the quantity of air which is left among the frozen particles. Considerably more than a thousand distinct forms of snow crystals have been enumerated. These minute crystals and prisms reflect all the compound rays of which white light consists. Pink and various other tints may be seen reflected from sheets of snow under certain angles of sunshine. So much light is reflected by snow in the day that the eyes often suffer from it, and enough is given in the night to guide the traveler in the absence of artificial light or moonlight.—Chicago Tribune.

The Eleventh.

Archbishop Usher was once washed ashore from a wreck off the coast of Ireland. Almost destitute of clothing, he wandered to the house of a church dignitary and asked for shelter and aid of a brother clergyman.

"How many commandments are there?" inquired the other, thinking to detect an impostor.

"I can at once satisfy you that I am not the ignorant impostor you take me for," replied the archbishop. "There are eleven commandments."

"No," was the sneering comment; "there are but ten commandments in my Bible. Tell me the eleventh and I will relieve you."

"There it is," said the archbishop; "'a new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another.'"

Holding His Job.

Michael Callahan, a section boss for the Southern railroad, has a keen Gaelic wit. One warm afternoon while walking along the railroad tracks he found a section hand placidly sleeping beside the rails. Callahan looked disgustedly at the delinquent for a full minute and then remarked:

"Slape on, ye lazy spalpeen, slape on, fur as long as you slape you've got a job, but when you wake up you ain't got none."—Lippincott's Magazine.

A Run of Luck.

Ruffien—Old fellow, you look blue. Are you on the wrong side of the market? Trumbull—Market be hanged! I moved yesterday. The van man broke £5 worth of the furniture, I lost a five pound Bank of England note, the gas company held me up for double the usual deposit, and I've just been summoned on a jury.—London Mail.

Why Suffer from Rheumatism.

Do you know that rheumatic pains can be relieved? If you doubt this just try one application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It will make rest and sleep possible, and that certainly means a great deal to any one afflicted with rheumatism. For sale by W. T. Creighton and Richard Gibson.

DeWitt's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salve is especially recommended for piles. Sold by W. F. Creighton.

Wise Counsel From the South.

"I want to give some valuable advice to those who suffer with lame back and kidney trouble," says J. R. Blankenship, of Beck, Tenn. "I have proved to an absolute certainty that Electric Bitters will positively cure this distressing condition. The first bottle gave me great relief and after taking a few more bottles I was completely cured, so completely that it becomes a pleasure to recommend this great remedy." Sold under guarantee at all drug stores. Price 50c.

KIN HEE QUICK DRIP COFFEE POTS suitable for use with my fine coffees pulverized by electricity, for sale by J. C. MILBURN.

A good thing to use after washing your hair—NICKLIN'S HAIR TONIC, 25 cents Manufactured by E. S. LEADBEATER & SONS.

An Amendment.

Mrs. Meanthing—Henry, I have to write a paper for our club on "The Woman Who Deliberates Is Lost." Have you any suggestions to make? Mr. Meanthing—Well, I don't know. You might make it "extinct" instead of "lost."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

After the Fire.

"You don't mean to say that Spender is on his uppers. Why, I thought he had money to burn!"

"So he did have; but, unfortunately for Spender, he carried no fire insurance."—Brooklyn Life.

A good way to cultivate patience is to watch the growth of a bank account.—Dallas News.

A Lucid Interval.

Doctor—Has your husband had any lucid intervals since I was here last?

"Well, this morning he kept shouting that you were an old fool, and he tried to break the medicine bottles."—Life.

A man should allow none but good impulses to stir his heart, and he should keep it free from any evil that may beat it down and harden it.—Rev. J. D. Hammond.
